Power Block 2

This block is designed to improve rate of force develop AKA how fast you can get out of the bottom of a lift, which will translate to the next cycle of training when you're pushing for a PR. This cycle should feel refreshing versus exhausting.
Avoid the temptation to turn the workouts into cardio. Max explosiveness and power require rest periods to allow the CNS and ATP-CP fuel to recover.

Loading: keep loading at 6/10 (60%) of what is normally used and intensity (effort) at a 10/10

STUDIO LFT

Week 1	16/17 Nov – Power B2 – W1 Day 1 Lower
